What is a Technology Strategy assessment on flow batteries?

This technology strategy assessment on flow batteries, released as part of the Long-Duration Storage Shot, contains the findings from the Storage Innovations (SI) 2030 strategic initiative.

Can a manufacturer supply a flow battery?

Manufacturers may supply from a standard product range, or supply customised or bespoke Systems. Users of this CWA are advised to consult up-to-date references for details of each type of Flow Battery. NOTE The definition of a Flow Battery is given in Section 3.34 of this CWA.

What is a redox flow battery?

Redox flow batteries (RFBs) or flow batteries (FBs)? the two names are interchangeable in most cases? are an innovative technology that offers a bidirectional energy storage system by using redox active energy carriers dissolved in liquid electrolytes.

Why do flow battery developers need a longer duration system?

Flow battery developers must balance meeting current market needs while trying to develop longer duration systems because most of their income will come from the shorter discharge durations. Currently, adding additional energy capacity just adds to the cost of the system.

What should be a minimum charge level before packing a battery?

Before packing batteries, it is strongly recommended that their state of charge be reduced to below 30% SoC (or 25% indicated battery capacity). This recommendation will become mandatory on 1 January 2026.

What are the risks associated with battery transport?

One of the major risks associated with the transport of batteries is short-circuit of the battery as a result of the battery terminals coming into contact with other batteries, metal objects, or conductive surfaces.
